Topper Band

Directors: Dr. Carson Vermillion & Dan McGuire

1509 John Exum Parkway
Johnson City, Tennessee 37604

July 6, 2022

Dear Topper Band Members,

Welcome to the 2019 edition of the 'Topper Marching Band. We have one exciting show in store for our fans this fall. Our show title for this year is "American Landscapes" based on the photography of Ansel Adams. Selections include themes from Aaron Copland's 3rd Symphony, Outdoor Overture, The Red Pony and Sonoran Desert Holiday by Ron Nelson. Of football show will include the tunes Centuries, Anyway You Want It and Pressure.

This letter contains most of the information you will need for band camp. Other information can be found on the band website – www.shhsbandboosers.org – including forms and a calendar for the fall. Please read over the following items:

- Band Camp Schedule
- Expectations for camp
- Band Camp Survival Guide
- Fall Marching Band schedule: All rehearsals / performances (make a copy and put on the fridge!)

Here's to a great fall,

Band Camp Registration

July 17 (Sunday), 2 - 5 pm, Grand Topper Hall

Students and parents will drop-in for registration in Grand Topper Hall. Horton Sports will be on hand for shoe and athletic shorts sizing. Music Doctors will be on hand for accessories including flip folders, lyres, reeds, valve oil, or any additional needs. Additionally, students will take care of any paperwork including:

balance of camp fee ($125)

Fair Share Obligation payment (FSO) - $325/$225

pick up band t-shirt (free for new students)

turn in completed field trip release form

Pay Stick and Mallet Fee ($75) – percussion only

Colorguard uniform deposit – ($75)

receive band locker

Instrument Rental ($50)

purchase lyre/flip folders (if needed)

Woodwinds only – synthetic reed order ($30)

Fair Share Obligation (FSO)

This year's FSO will be $325 for the Competition Band members and $225 for Football Show members (9th grade woodwind and brass members). Students that qualify as Fee Waiver students (free and reduced lunch) will receive a discount. Families with multiple children in the band will also receive a discount for each additional child (equal to one FSO installment). By band camp registration, we would like for the remainder of the FSO to be paid. Payments may be paid online via PayPal through your child's Charms account. If you do not pay online, please be prepared to pay via check/cash at registration. We are asking that the FSO be paid in two installments:

1. FSO 1 by end of June
2. FSO 2 by end of August

Summer Band Uniform

For the first few games, our uniform will be the band shirt (rookies receive one free at registration) and black athletic shorts (both have band logo on them). Band shorts need to be purchased through the online store. If students need a new band shirt, that must be purchased through the online store as well.

Band Camp Fee - $125

This is to be paid online through the school's fee's page. A link can be found on the band website – www.shhsbandboosters.org. This fee should be paid before the start of band camp (July 18). Fee waiver students are exempt from this fee.

Instrumental Rental Fee - $50

Any student that uses a school owned instrument (bass clarinet, bari sax, mellophone, baritone, tuba) needs to pay the rental fee. It can be paid through the school fee website (same as above). Fee waiver students are exempt from this fee.

Topper Band Gear Store (visit www.shhsbandboosters.com) will open on July 11 and close on July 24. All orders will be delivered to the August 11th Booster Meeting/Preview show. Shoes, summer band uniform (band shirt and shorts) must be ordered through the online store. Other items are available for purchase include: band jackets, shirts, band shorts, guard gloves, guard shoes, guard warm-ups, and various other band swag.

Please see the Topper Band Gear Online Store for Prices

Camp Expectations:

All students are required to attend camp the entire day. Please do not schedule appointments during band camp or on regular after school rehearsal days (Tuesdays & Thursdays) during the school year. There are no after school rehearsals on Mondays and Wednesdays; they are open each week for appointments.

Things you need for camp:

- hat
- sunscreen (you will get sunburned without)
- flip folder and lyre, reeds
- pencil
- three ringed binder with ten (10) clear protective sheets that will hold your show music, coordinate sheet, and drill book
- athletic shoes with socks (no flip flops, crocks, boots, etc.)
- 1 gallon Coleman or Igloo (any color) water jug We do not supply water during practice
- eat a good breakfast
- lunch (please no carbonated drinks)

Guidelines for camp:

- Be on time each morning
- No visitors during the day
- You cannot leave campus or hang out in the parking lot
- Respect others including the staff and your fellow students
- Have your instrument in good playing condition
- Follow directions the first time
- The SHHS student handbook will be followed for all band activities.

Band Camp Survival Guide

Band camp is a very exciting aspect of marching band. Subject to both horror stories and the occasional comedy, many new students express some fear regarding band camp and what it entails. Following is a summary of some of the most frequently asked questions and things that you can do to prepare for band camp.

Things I can do during the summer:

1. Acclimate to heat before camp begins:

Many students spend the majority of their summer in air conditioned spaces. It is very important that their bodies acclimate to heat before they get to camp. This has a dramatic impact on how comfortable they are during those long days in the sun.

Things you can do:

- GO OUTSIDE
- Ride in the car with the windows down and no a/c.
- GO OUTSIDE
- Mow your grass during the hottest part of the day.
- Seriously....turn off the Xbox/PC and GO OUTSIDE.

2. Exercise

While many people are not sure what to do to really help themselves “get in shape,” the simple act of going outside and running or walking on a regular basis can help a student prepare for the rigors of band camp. As someone that was once a soccer player/coach, I can attest to the fact that some people do not consider marching band to be a physical activity. However, some preparation beforehand can have a tremendous impact on your student’s success and comfort in this activity that is indeed very physical, especially during the long hours at band camp.

If anyone is interested in specific things that they can do to prepare, please feel free to email Mr. McGuire at m McGuire@jcschools.org.

3. Exercise immediately after waking up

One of the most difficult things to get used to during camp is how physical one must be early in the day. One thing that can help is waking up during the summer, regardless of the time, and going for a jog immediately. This can help the body acclimate to being physical quickly after waking up, something that is necessary during camp.

4. Finish Summer Work

Many students enroll in classes that require summer work. It is extremely important that any and all summer work be completed before camp begins. Students will not have any time at all during the two weeks of band camp to complete these assignments, and the week following they will very likely be exhausted.

5. Wean off of sodas

While the vast majority of people in our society drink soda every day, it has been proven that it has a negative impact on individual health when ingested on a regular basis. The main negative side effect of soda for our purposes, whether regular or diet, is this: dehydration.

If your student drinks sodas on a regular day-to-day basis, we would strongly recommend that they attempt to lower their consumption going into camp. The process of weaning off of soda shares similar withdrawal symptoms with many other addictive substances. Getting that process out of the way before camp can make things much more enjoyable for your student.

Things I can do during Band Camp

1. Eating

- a. Breakfast: This is by far the most important meal of the day. Even if your student is not a person that typically eats breakfast, they must eat breakfast every day of band camp. The type of food that they eat is quite important. Here are some general rules:
 - Do not eat/drink any dairy for breakfast! Your student will throw up during morning block.
 - A good breakfast has two main components: Protein and Carbs. Both are equally important. I prefer turkey bacon, eggs, and a piece of wheat toast in the morning....however you get those things is up to you, just make sure you get both.
 - Having pancakes, muffins, doughnuts, etc. for breakfast will leave a student feeling drained and run down after an hour. Please try to avoid these foods.
- b. Lunch: Something here that isn't too heavy, but still has some good carbs. Try to avoid things like white bread and sodas. Instead use wheat bread and focus on getting complex carbs. Perform a Google search for complex carbs to find a list of things that you might consider.
- c. Dinner: Dinner will be provided for students during the 2nd week of band camp.

2. What to Drink

- a. Breakfast: Orange Juice is a great drink in the mornings. Coffee can also be good. Avoid milk at all costs....your student will see that milk again in a very unpleasant way if they drink it.
- b. Lunch and Dinner: Water and Gatorade. Students should drink both. The military requires that all soldiers at boot camp drink water and Gatorade during meal breaks for a reason. The water is needed to replenish what students will sweat out during the day, and the electrolytes in the Gatorade will help give them energy and make them feel better.
- c. What to avoid: Soda. It will dehydrate your student, and the "down" experienced because of the sugar will cause them to feel terrible about an hour into the next rehearsal block.

It cannot be overstated that what a student eats has a direct impact on how they feel. Many times when a student tells us that they want to go home because they don't feel good, it is because they have not eaten appropriately. Please make every effort to ensure that your student eats and drinks well, especially if that is something that they do not normally do.

3. Sleep

It is of vital importance that your student sleeps well during band camp. Luckily, most students do not have a problem with this during the 2nd week of camp as they are exhausted when they go home. Students should avoid any type of evening engagements during the 2nd week of camp. Once they go home, they should plan on going to bed quickly.

4. Waking up in the morning and not wanting to go to Band Camp

Every year there is at least one student that wakes up in the morning and does not wish to attend camp because they feel sick. Unless that student has a fever over 100.0 degrees, the best thing you can do is get them to camp and push through it. Almost every time those student's bodies are simply unaccustomed to the level of physical activity that they experience at band camp. Their bodies will adjust, but only if they push through. Make sure they get a good meal and have plenty of Gatorade for the day, and let a director know so that we can keep an eye on them.

5. Sunscreen and Appropriate Clothing

Band camp happens outside. While we try to shield the majority of students from the worst of the heat, there is no way for us to avoid the sun and what it can do to the body if not properly prepared. All students should have the following:

- Sunscreen (This is not the week to work on your tan)
- A hat that will cover your face
- A water container (Not optional)
- Light colored clothing (Please be aware of the weather...white t-shirts can be a bad idea)
- Good footwear. Must have good ankle support. No sandals!

Even if you have spent most of the summer outside, the heat from the sun can zap your energy and leave you feeling drained. The days are quite long, especially during the 2nd week, so keeping the sun off your face and wearing sunscreen (and reapplying during breaks!) is essential to functioning at 100%.

6. Blisters

Given how much we are on the move, blisters are unavoidable. As soon as a blister starts to form, please do not pop it. Instead, put a piece of mole skin on the blister and cover it with duct tape. That should minimize any rubbing and allow the blister to heal. It is really important that students do this as soon as a blister starts to form. If they pop and bleed it can make life miserable.

7. End of day activities

At the end of each day, students should make sure they do a good stretch before going to bed. This will help work out any lactic acid that might still be in their muscles from the day's activities and will make them feel better the next day. Also, if anything is particularly sore, applying some ice for 10 minutes can help reduce swelling.

If you have any questions regarding camp, or the expectations for students, please feel free to email us during the summer. While we do not always check our emails regularly, we do make an effort to check them periodically and answer any questions we receive. We are excited to have you join our band family, and we can't wait to see you in July!
